NOTES

Final pricing for all garments including wedding dresses, traditional attire, and reception outfits is determined by fabric choice, lace quantity, level of beading or embellishment, train length and style, as well as overall design complexity and custom details.

As all our pieces are fully custom-made, we do not provide itemized cost breakdowns. Each quotation reflects the total value of the design concept, craftsmanship, embellishment, tailoring, and finishing.

If the bride has a preferred budget (within or above our stated starting prices), we are happy to recommend suitable silhouettes, fabrics, and design elements that align beautifully with her range while maintaining our signature standard of elegance and quality.

Please note that prices may vary based on final design approvals and material availability.
